HOW THE POLE WAS REACHED.
A DRAMATIC NARRATIVE.
TERRIBLE DANGERS.

(COPYRIGHT.)
The Press Association is authorized to publish the following summary of an account of the expedition of the "Thetis," published in the form of a book, by the author, Mr. H. H. Peary, who was successful in reaching the North Pole.

CATTLE HARBOUR, LABRADOR, via Marconi Wireless Telegraph, Cape Ray, Newfoundland, Thursday.

The Thetis, a small schooner of 184 tons, left Cape Ray on the morning of 18th August, 1909, for Cape Sabin, leaving on board with the expedition, 22 men, 17 women, 10 children, and 10 dogs. The weather was dirty, but as the schooner sailed Cape Sabin it cleared. From Cape Sabin north there was a little land the appearance of ice to the north was stopped.
